BOMB JAPAN; SAIPAN INVADED HOLD NAZI COUNTERATTACKS

AMERICAN TROOPS SURGE POWERFULLY AHEAD IN CAMPAIGN

GAINS HAMMERED OUT IN FACE OF HEAVY GERMAN ARMORED ASSAULTS

By WES GALLAGHER

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, June 15.—(AP)—American troops have surged powerfully ahead in their stab into the Cherbourg neck, allied headquarters announced today, and Berlin reported less than six miles separated the spearhead from the last west coast communications linking Cherbourg with France.

The gains were hammered out in spite of furious counterattacks all along the 100-mile invasion front in which the Germans had thrown about 20 divisions and 600 tanks.

Allied headquarters, confirming that American infantry and parachute troops, supported by tanks had scored further gains west of Carentan, said allied soldiers were holding firm everywhere else despite the massive nature of the German counterstroke and were inflicting heavy losses on the enemy.

This was after it was acknowledged that the British at the eastern end of the line had been forced to give up Troarn, their anchor nine miles east of Caen, and Villers-Bocage, one of their two advance points 15 miles southwest of Caen.

German Drive Turned Back.

Further heavy concentrations in the Villers-Bocage area were turned back yesterday evening, headquarters said, and the British were still secure in their hold on Caumont, their other most advanced point, 20 miles southwest of Caen.

Seventeen German tanks, including eight 60-ton Tigers, were knocked out in the fierce armored battling yesterday, headquarters said. The other eight tanks were Panthers armed with 75 mm. guns.

At the western end of the line, the Americans first moved forward on a nine-mile front to the Les Sablons-Baupte area, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and only about seven miles from high ground overlooking La Haye Du Puits on the west coast road and rail line leading to Cherbourg.

The Berlin radio commentator, Ludwig Sertorius, then reported that they had gained another 3 1-2 miles to the west, reaching Pretot which is less than six miles from La Haye Du Puits itself.

Yanks Fight Back Into Montebourg

The Americans also fought their way back into Montebourg, 14 miles from Cherbourg and headquarters said street fighting was in progress. But the fighting here was fluid, and the Germans in

SECRETARY STIMSON SAYS FIRM FOOTHOLD IS NOW ESTABLISHED

ASSERTS THAT GREATER COUNTER ATTACKS ARE YET TO BE MET

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—War Secretary Stimson said today the Allies have established a firm foothold on the European coast.

"I believe we are there to stay until all of France is liberated and Germany defeated," he asserted, although cautioning that "we must expect counter atacks greater than any yet met" in the fighting in Normandy.

Stimson told a news conference that destruction or heavy damage to nine bridges over the Seine river by Allied air forces was one major factor in slowing down development of a major counter attack—"a delay longer than we could reasonably have counted upon."

The fuller information which has now come on the initial landings of our men on the French coast," the secretary said, " is a case to illustrate the desirability of not reaching hasty conclusions. The West wall was no myth or pushover. At various places the landings were relatively easy, thanks to an element of tactical surprise, a careful choice of the general region for the assault and the destruction of German communications by our preceding air attack.

"But everywhere German offshore mines, beach obstacles, guns and pill boxes were a dangerous hazard."

Stimson noted that Allied forces suffered casualties in the operation "but not as many as our commanders were obliged to calculate upon beforehand."

SUSTAINED ATTACK BY NAVAL AND AIR FORCES ON MARIANAS

ASSAULT HAS EXTENDED THROUGH FOURTH STRAIGHT DAY IS REPORT

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET Headquarters, Pearl Harbor, June 15—(AP)—The most sustained task force assault of the Pacific war by bombarding battleships, cruisers and destroyers and by repeated waves of carrier planes focused attention today on the Japanese-held Marianas islands, including the former American outpost of Gaum.

(Tokyo radio announced, a few hours after the latest Pearl Harbor communique on the raids, that Allied forces had attempted to land on Saipan island in the Marianas and that fierce fighting was in progress. This report, so far unconfirmed, said about 70 landing barges and 20 other special craft were used in the landing operation. Two landings were attempted this morning (Friday morning, Tokyo time), the broadcast said, and heavy punishment was inflicted on the invaders.

(Tokyo in the past has been first to announce U. S. landings on enemy-held Pacific islands.)

The Marianas were the fiery core of action ranging along more than 3,000 miles from the Kuriles, where another task force shelled the enemy within 500 miles of Japan, South to Palau, gateway to the Philippines.

The latest reports:

1. Extended through the fourth straight day the shelling and bombing attacks on the Marianas, 1,500 miles Southeast of Tokyo.
2. Disclosed a two-day task force raid on Kuriles bases 1,060 miles Northeast of Tokyo.
3. Made clear that Central and Southwest Pacific bombers are

GEN. DEGAULLE LEFT INSTRUCTIONS FOR CIVIL LIFE PROGRAM

FRENCH COMMITTEE OF NATIONAL LIBERATION SAYS LEADER WELCOMED

LONDON, June 15—(AP)—The French committee of National liberation reported today that Gen. Charles De Gaulle during his trip to the Normandy beachhead had "left everywhere instructions regarding resumption of civil administration, orgnization of supplies and public relief."

In a communique issued through the French press service, the committee said De Gaulle had been given a "most moving demonstration of courage and devotion by the population of Isigny and that elsewhere he was greeted in the same atmosphere of immense fervor."

Gen. De Gaulle, back in Britain after a triumphal reception on French soil, today laid before British and American political and military councils a claim of enthusiastic support from newly-liberated Frenchmen to back his demand for recognition of the French committee of National liberation as the voice of France.

De Gaulle was said to be planning tentatively to return briefly to Algiers to report to the French consulative assembly on the result of his discussions with the British and with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, before proceeding to America to see President Roosevelt.

The London press hailed the General's swift trip to the Normandy front with the expressed hope it

INVASION TROOPS WHO SURVIVED ASK FOLKS BE NOTIFIED

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH AMERICAN TROOPS Somewhere in France, June 15—(AP)—More than anything else, the men who came safely through the bloody beach battle in our sector on D-Day want their sweethearts, wives and parents to know that they are all right.

As usual, a soldier is generally more worried about not worrying the people at home than about himself and his thoughts are of those he loves, once the greatest danger is past.

Capt. William Collins, Chicago, was pinned on the beach by heavy gun fire for more than four hours and somehow he came through it unscathed.

I saw him with his unit and he said, "look, will you just say for me, "dear Marge, I am all right." Will You?"

T-5 J. B. Johnson of Port Arthur, Texas, looked up from a foxhole and grinned "tell 'em at home I'm having a happy birthday."

FIFTH WAR LOAN IS MAKING SLOW START IN CITY AND COUNTY

BUTLER CONFIDENT THAT OVERSUBSCRIPTION WILL FINALLY RESULT

Fifth War Loan bond sales in Corsicana and Navarro county to date total approximately $150,000, according to incomplete figures reaching the office of Joe E. Butler, county chairman.

Although these figures indicate a relatively slow start Butler stated that he felt confident the campaign would gain momentum each day with a substantial oversubscription before the deadline of July 8.

All Must Help

With the perfection of city and county organizations it is anticipated bond sales will increase hourly and every man, woman, child and organization will be given an opportunity to participate, the chairman announced.

"There will be a feeling of shame in this community if we find ourselves short of the mark when the Fifth War Loan campaign comes to a close," Butler said.

"We will not permit this to happen here, especially if we look around in our homes and our places of employment and see the shadows of relatives and friends who today are in the midst of bloody battle for us,' the chairman observed adding that "in this invasion hour our fighting men have a right to demand that you make a record contribution to the success of the war loan."

County Quota

The Navarro county quota for the Fifth War Loan is $2,975,000 and the national quota is $16,000,000,000.

Fred H Harvey Jr., is chairman of the Corsicana campaign with J. L. Collins and A. F. Mitchell as co-chairmen.

This committee has been assigned a quota of $2,572,600 to be sold in the city. Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and the various women's organizations and clubs will assist in making a thorough and systematic canvass of every person residing in the city limits.

Chairmen have been named and quotas set for every town and community in Navarro county.

"The slogan—Back the Attack—Buy More Than Before—is not merely a catch phrase," Butler pointed out. "It expresses the cold facts about invasion. Unless we make the supreme effort to do everything humanly possible either at our work benches or in our homes with our sweat, our blood and our dollars we hand over our share of the burden to our fighting men."

Butler announced that John H. Bryant, representing the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, Dallas, had notified him the company would purchase Fifth War Loan Bonds in Corsicana in the amount of $10,000 to be applied on the local quota. The chairman also stated that a number of other organizations would make bond purchases to be applied on the local quota.

Russians Hurled Finns Over River In Viipuri Drive

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, June 15.—(AP)—The Red army hurled the Finns across an important but unnamed river today as it pressed on toward the port of Viipuri against an enemy who is throwing up what Red Star describes as "a multitude of obstacles."

All dispatches stressed the difficult fighting conditions faced by Col. Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's troops. In numerous places the Russians were employing special squads to cut through dense forests and build highways.

There were many indications that Finnish resistance was stiffening and that the Soviets had come up against the main Finnish defenses, but no indications that the Finns had been able to stop the Red army in any sector.

Falling back towards Viipuri, the Finns chopped down hundreds of tall firs across the highway and railroad line.

The Finns were using the forests for ambushes, causing extreme caution on the part of Soviet troops anxious to save every tank in the near wilderness of the Karelian Isthmus.

PRESIDENT MAKES PUBLIC HIS POSTWAR PEACE ORGANIZATION

PROVIDES FOR A COUNCIL REPRESENTING ALL NATIONS TO PREVENT WAR

WASHINGTON June 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt called today for creation of a world organization of all "peace-loving" nations to maintain peace and security—backed by force if necessary.

"We are not thinking of a superstate with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power" the President said, but added that member nations of the world organization would maintain adequate forces "for joint action when necessary."

For the mechanics of a peace-promoting organization, Mr. Roosevelt proposed in a statement:

1. An international organization comprising all peace-loving nations.
2. A council, elected annually by these nations, to include the four major nations and "a suitable number of other nations."

(The big four are the United States, Great Britain, Russia and China.)

3. An international court of justice to deal primarily with disputes capable of settlement.

Armed Forces

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that for the need for physical enforcement of war prevention, the government is seeking agreement with other nations to have their armed forces available for joint action.

The plan set forth in the President's statement will be the basis of conversations at a meeting to which secretary Hull has invited Britain, Russia and China to send representatives.

Mr. Roosevelt issued his statement after a conference with secretary of state Hull, undersecretary of state, Edward R. Stettinious, Jr., Dr. Isaiah Bowman and Leo

NAZI COUNTERATTACK AGAINST INVASION MEANS CRUCIAL TIME FOR FIRST STAGE OF ACTION

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst.

This is the beginning of the main Hitlerite counter-attack against the allies on the Cherbourg peninsula, which means that the crucial moment of the first stage of our invasion of France is near.

It's a clash of armored giants for tanks play a great role. The battle has swelled in fury as the nazis have flung in reserves which have been rushed up from distant points. The conflict is fluid, and strong positions are passing back and forth in hand-to-hand fighting along the serpentine 100 mile front.

The allies are meeting the challenge with complete confidence. They have retained the initiative on the whole, and that's vastly important.

The intensity of the battle will mount, and if the Germans have the reserves we may expect it to become one of the greatest engagements of the war. Still, the allies have their feet firmly on shore, and they will stay there. Don't forget that we have two mighty assets which the nazis lack—vast superiority in the air and on the sea.

One of the most important of yesterday's momentous events was the dramatic appearance of General Charles De Gaulle, the French leader, among the allied forces on the peninsula—his first return to home soil since the fatal days of 1940. This visit, made possible by an allied command which has happy to serve him, will arouse fresh hope that there may be a settlement of the controversy which is clouding relations between De Gaulle's French Committee of National Liberation and the Anglo-American allies.

British Prime Minister Churchill called this situation rather sharply to public attention yesterday when he requested the House of Commons to defer debating the subject on the ground that discussion "would do more harm than good now." He did edge the cloud with a bit of silver when he

SECOND BOMBING OF JAPANESE MAINLAND ANNOUNCED TODAY

TOKYO SAID POWERFUL NAVAL FORCE ATTEMPTING TO INVADE MARIANAS

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor.

Super Fortresses of the United States Army Air Forces bombed Japan today, more than two years after the first historic raid on Tokyo by the daring carrier-based planes commanded by Lt. Col. James Doolittle, now a lieutenant general.

The cryptic announcement by the war department said merely that "B-29 Super-Fortresses of the United States Army Air Forces 20th Bomber Command bombed Japan today."

Where the raiders struck, their numbers, their bases and other information on this long-awaited aerial attack on Nippon remained a military secret. The Doolittle raid on Tokyo was made April 18, 1942.

Earlier the Tokyo radio said a powerful Allied naval task force was attempting to put ground troops ashore on Saipan and Tinian islands in the Marianas group 1,00 miles southeast of Japan. It made no reference, however, to the bombing of Japan.

Unconfirmed Announcement

The unconfirmed enemy announcement said Japanese defenders allowed "the invaders to approach as near as possible to the coast and then opened up a fierce concentrated fire on the enemy and foiled the attempt." A second landing attempt, it said, likewise was met with heavy fire and "Japanese forces are now inflicting heavy punishment on the invaders."

The broadcast closely followed Adm. Chester W. Nimitz' announcement yesterday outlining four days of concentrated surface and aerial bombardment of Marianas Islands. Nimitz' disclosures, coming as they did while the big task force still at sea, was a bold invitation for the Japanese fleet to come out and fight. The latter continued reluctant.

The Marianas stretch for 400 miles north and south on the eastern flank of the Philippines. Saipan is 750 miles south of the Bonin Islands. The Bonins, some

ADMIRAL HALSEY TO GET NEW ASSIGNMENT IS OUT IN PACIFIC

ALLIED FLEET COMMANDER RELIEVED BY ADMIRAL NEWTON, HIS DEPUTY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS In The South Pacific, June 5.—(AP)—Admiral William F. Halsey, Jr., relinquished his position as allied commander in chief in the South Pacific today to Vice Admiral John Henry Newton, 62, his deputy commander.

Halsey is being assigned to a new and as yet undisclosed role in the Pacific Force of the United States Pacific Fleet, was accomplished in a simple ceremony in the headquarters building here.

Halsey became commander of the South Pacific area as a vice admiral ,Oct. 18, 1942. Forces under his command defeated the Japanese in the battle of Santa Cruz Oct. 26, 1942, and in the battle of Guadalcanal the following Nov. 13 to 15. He was promoted to full admiral Nov. 18, 1942.

Halsey sent a ringing "well done" message to his South Pacific forces, in a statement which said in part:

Parting Well Done.

"I send this parting well done to my victorious all-services South Pacific fighting team. You have met, measured and mowed down the best the enemy had on land and sea and air.

"You have sent hundreds of Tojo's ships, thousands of his

Superfortresses Blast Homeland as Marianas Hit by Ground Forces

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, June 15.—(AP)—Assault troops landed Wednesday morning on Saipan, Japanese air and naval base in the Marianas, and troop landings "are being continued against strong opposition," Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced in a communique today.

Initial landing assaults started after intensive preparatory bombing and bombardment of Saipan, Tinian, Guam, Pagan and Rota Islands by Pacific fleet aircraft carriers, battleships, cruisers and destroyers.

The preparatory attack started with carrier bombings Saturday and continued through four days before the landings began.

The fleet carriers and warships are supporting the landing forces with heavy air attacks and naval gun shelling.

"The initial reports," Nimitz said, "indicate our casualties are moderate."

The assault to seize Saipan makes a long leapfrogging vault from the Marshalls over Truk, the once potent enemy stronghold in the Carolines. Saipan is 675 statute miles West of Truk and 1,150 miles West of Eniwetok, westernmost Marshall base taken from the Japanese last February. It is about 1,500 miles from Tokyo.

If the American force overruns Saipan, Truk will be cut off from the rear. Gaum, former American naval outpost lost to the Japs three days after the war outbreak, also would be closely flanked. Gaum lies 116 miles South of Saipan.

Tokyo radio reported hours earlier that American amphibious troops were landing on Saipan in the face of "accurate Japanese fire." Tokyo said the first attempt to land on Saipan was "thrown into wild confusion." Later, it added, Americans reached shore on both islands.

Admiral Nimtz's communique said:

"Operations for the seizure of Saipan island in the Marianas group have been initiated by strong Pacific ocean areas forces.

J. H. HOOK DIED THURSDAY MORNING; RITES ON FRIDAY

J. H. Hook, age 72 years, died at his home here at 5:30 Thursday morning, following a lingering illness. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Sutherland-McCammon Chapel with Dr. Matthew Arnold conducting the rites. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

A native of Huntsville, Ala., he came to Texas in 1889 and landed at Galveston. He later moved to Denison where he was superintendent of the Denison Cotton Mills. He served as superintendent of the Sherman Manufacturing Co. for several years before coming to Corsicana, where he was superintendent of the Cotton Mills since 1920.

In addition to his business connections, he was active in civic and church work. He was an elder in the Third Avenue Presbyterian church, and was president of a Sunday school class before being forced to retire sometime ago due to ill health. He was also an active member of the Rotary Club.

Surviving are his wife, Corsicana; three daughters, Mrs. King Elliott, Corsicana; Mrs. B. S. Teas, Houston; Mrs. Roger Q. Small, Austin; a son, Don L. Hook, Austin, and other relatives.

Pallbearers will be W. Ray Coffey, J. P. Thompson, E. C. Sears, Ed Black, West; Otto Smith, Gray Edminston, Denison; J. O. Wilson, Sherman, and J. S. Murchison.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—The army threw a new fighting giant into the war in the Pacific today, turning lose the new B-29 Superfortress in an air attack on the Japanese homeland.

A terse war department communique said:

"B-29 Superfortress of the United States army air forcces 20th Bomber Command bombed Japan today."

It was the first fighting assignment for the sky mammoth, and the announcement also served to disclose for the first time the experience of the 29th Bomber Command (of which the 20th Bomber Command is a party) a world-roaming unit—under the personal direction of Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the Army Air Force.

The war department withheld details on the new bombing of Japan proper—first such attack on the mainland since the Doolittle raid of April 18, 1942.

There was no immediate hint of what part of Nippon had been hit, nor from where the B-29's went into action.

However, the war department subsequently disclosed that planes taking part in todays raid came from the India-China-Burma theatre.

The B-29, it was disicosed for the first time, is a heavily armored ship whose bomb load, range and ceiling exceed that of any other plane. It is powered by four engines of 2,200 horsepower each, each carrying two superchargers. It's wing span is 141.2 feet, as compared with B-17's (Flying Fortress) span of 104 feet.

Arnold said in connection with the announcement:

"This employment of the B-29 makes possible the softening up

ALLIED TROOPS IN GENERAL ADVANCE ON ITALIAN FRONT

NUMEROUS TOWNS AND TRANSPORTATION POINTS HAVE BEEN CAPTURED

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ROME, June 15.—(AP)—Allied troops, breaking the stiffening German resistance of the last three days, have made a general advance all along their line in Italy taking Orvieto, Aquila and Narni and pushing onward, allied headquarters announced today.

Arvieto is 57 miles northwest of Rome; Narni, 41 miles north, and Aquilla, 54 miles northeast. Along the West coast the Firth army has advanced 79 miles beyond Rome.

As one Eighth army column entered Orvieto, an important road junction northeast of Lake Bolsea, another reached the outskirts of Terni, but was delayed by a blown bridge and a German counter-attack in the vicinity of the city.

Fifth army troops along the West coast met determined enemy resistance at Magliano, 11 miles northeast of Argetello, but swept it aside and entered the town.

The fall of Orbetello itself, a west coast town 71 miles beyond Rome and the center of German resistance to the Fifth army's offensive, was reported last night.

In the Lake Bolsena area French troops continued to advance and the Americans reached Pitigliano, 11 miles west of the northern end of the lake, and sent reconnaissance elements farther.

Allied troops in the Adriatic sector are across the Saline river.

Despite the arrival of fresh German divisions in Italy allied armies still are encountering only formations made up of remnants of the 14th German army.

ACTION

The preparation is ready, the delay is over. And the sudden onslaught of war is like a thunderstorm that breaks the tension. There is no more suspense, no doubt, no hesitation. The Army, the Navy and the Air Force know what to do, and are ready. This nation of civilians, suddenly turned militant, likewise knows what to do. We are not bred to warfare as our enemies are, but millions of trained men are ready for the job. And no less important, tens of millions of private citizens are ready to play their part in the great, defensive war machine which this nation of peaceful citizens becomes in time of peril.

This is no trivial scare, no trumped-up war, but the real thing. Its outcome will directly affect every man, woman and child, and the fate of our country and our world, for generations. It is a time when every citizen not specifically engaged in any branch of war work should ask what he can do to help, and serve to the best of his ability.

RUSSIA AND AMERICA

Ten little words spoken to American flyers in the briefing room of the United States Air Force in Italy on June 1 were historic. They were preparing for another flight, and the American officer giving them their instructions said: "In case you don't know where you're going, it's Russia."

It was historic because they were flying to Russia as partners and allies of the Russian people. That was the beginning not only of shuttle bombing against the common enemy Germany, but of a genuine cooperation between the military forces of Russia and the United States. And on both sides there is a desire that close relations shall continue not only during the war, but thereafter. Strange as it seems, these two nations, so long at opposite extremes in mode of life and government, seem to be drawing steadily closer. And it seems unexpectedly easy for them to understand each other.

The Russians have come far from the tyranny of the old czars. They are not yet as free and equal politically as we are. But their constitution calls for such freedom, and they may attain it sooner than the outer world expects. With the war over and Russia free from fear, that may be the next step.

THE QUINTS' PONY

The Dionne quintuplets of Callander, Ont., are heard from again, and this time it's big news. If you don't believe it, ask our little people.

Those kids have a pony, owned jointly of course, and given them on their 10th birthday. They have been wanting it for a long time, and certainly had it coming to them. If one little girl deserves a pony, the laws of mathematics seem to show that five little girls deserve one 25 times as much. They will have a good time — and so, no doubt, will the pony.

That is one of the obvious advantages of living rather simply, in a country that still preaches and practices the realities of life more than we do down here. In an American family they would probably have got only an automobile.

FLAG DAY.

I fancy that the Lord looked down
And whispered into Betty's ear:
"'Tis something more than cape or gown
That you are stiching now, my dear.
Remember: stripes of white and red!
The white for truth and liberty;
The red for blood of heroes shed
That men, world over, might be free;
And then—as first I thought to do
Bright stars against a field of blue.

"Remember: Betsy Ross, you make
The flag of hope for all mankind.
Remember: every stitch you take the states in brotherhood will bind.
Soon, every hem and every fold
Will be a symbol in the sky
By which all tyrants will be told
That liberty is not yet to die.
This banner down the years, will be
The hope of all who would be free.

"There will be times of doubt and dread,
When evil force the field will take
And blood, in freedom's cause, be shed,
And brave men die for freedom's sake;
But then, beneath this flag you sew,
Against the horror and the fear,
For God above, and men below,
A mighty nation will appear,
Devoted, land and sky and sea,
To justice, truth and liberty."

DO AMERICANS READ?

Are Americans a reading people? The popular idea is that they are, but Dr. George Gallup, out of his experinece with polls, doubts it.

"Relatively few people, even college-educated people, read more than one book a month," he says. "It is important to bear in mind that this is the average. A few read as many as a dozen or 16 books in a month. Only one half of the college people in the country in any given week spend any time reading a book, and for those who do, the average number of hours spent will be four."

There are, of course, other forms of reading, such as magazines and newspapers. There are also other ways of getting information, like the radio. Still Dr. Gallup's figures are disturbing. Our American form of government depends on intelligence, and in a wise utterance, now current, "a man's intelligence is no better than his information."

It is quite possible to read too much. Probably the man who reads ten books a month knows very little about what is in any of them when he gets through. But surely six or seven good books per year is not more than enough to keep the mind well-oiled and the information growing.

NEW BEST SELLER

When Chinese and Japanese dictionaries sell "enormously," to use the publisher's word, it is a sign that there is a war. So heavy has been the Harvard University Press's sales of these huge volumes that their other publications have had to be rationed. One dictionary weighs seven pounds; the copies demanded by the army and navy do not leave much paper for other books.

Think how impressive this seven-pound Chinese dictionary would look on a living-room table.

RADAR FOR AUTOS

Radar, that wonderful new device which locates ships in the dark, may be adapted after the war to prevent automobile collisions.

In the last resort, collisions depend on the intelligence of the drivers. Perhaps this is so scarce that the strain on it should be reduced to a minimum. In that case automatic radar may be what is needed.

It is said that men don't want their old jobs back after the war. They all want other jobs that are pleasanter or more interesting or pay better. And where does that leave everybody?

The crooks, like the poor, are always with us. James Russell Lowell wrote 70 years ago of "public scandal, private fraud, crime flaunting scot-free while the mob applaud." But we have less applause for the crooks now.

RUSHING REINFORCEMENTS TO FRANCE AND RUSSIA.

COTTON INDUSTRY OFFICIALS SEEKING POSTWAR GUARANTEE

WASHINGTON, June 14—(AP)—Government officials and American cotton industry representatives have discussed what the latter group called a need for a post-war program to provide cotton growers with a proper income without the help of a federal loan system.

A committee of cotton growers and shippers headed by W. L. Walker, Houston, exns, talked about this matter with war food administrator Marvin Jones and Undersecretary of Agriculture Grover Hill. The group also conferred with war mobilization director James F. Byrnes and foreign economics administrator Leo T. Crowley.

Commenting upon the loan system, Major Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, Texas, a member of the committee, said 'the loan program simply built up huge stockpiles of government-owned cotton and depressed the market. Some means must be found to keep the crop moving on through to the consumer, to the mutual benefit of everyone concerned."

Jackson said Crowley strongly supported their proposal that the postwar exports of cotton be handled by private enterprise, rather than by the government.

The Hillsboro man said the talks with Byrnes concerned mainly trade barriers and added that Byrnes expressed the opinion that high tariffs were partially responsible for the present war and that they must be lowered between all nations in order to secure the peace.

TEL Sunday School Class Of Northside Baptists in Session

The T. E. L. Sunday School Class of Northside Baptist Church met in business and social session on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mr. Hattie Parish. Mrs. R. A. Jones opened the meeting, and Mrs. A. L. Meador offered a prayer, followed by a hymn, "I Am Thine O Lord", with Mrs. Parish at the piano.

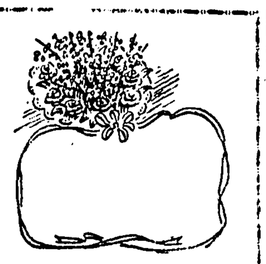

Mrs. Dave Jordan gave the devotional, reading from the 14th chapter of St. John as the Scriptural background.

Officials gave good reports and new business was discussed.

Orange zinnias were featured in decorative highlights of the Parish home.

Sandwiches, olives, potato chips, cake and ice cream were served by the hostess during a social hour.

Eight members and two associate members enjoyed the meeting, which was concluded with sentence prayers.

SWEETHEARTS and FLOWERS

It's blossom time for Nature ... the season of sweethearts and flowers. To keep fondness fresh nothing has ever been discovered with the power of flowers. Any cluster of petaled fragrance does the trick. All man needs is an indirect reminder.

Dallas Man Has Been Made Major

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Little of Dallas, former residents of Corsicana, will be interested in knowing that their son-in-law, Capt. W. R. Barbeck, who is stationed in the refrigeration engineering and air conditioning department of the U. S. Army in Washington, D. C., has been promoted to Major.

Mrs. Barbeck, the former Miss Louise Little and daughters, Ann and Sallie, joined Major Barbeck in Washington recently and are now making their home there.

Lieut. and Mrs. J. C. Gaston have returned to their home in Paris, Texas, after spending a 12 day leave in the home of Mrs. Gaston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Butler.

JAPANESE BATTLE FLAG RECEIVED BY CORSICANA MOTHER

The first Japanese battle flag exhibited in the Daily Sun office since hostilities began in the Pacific, was sent to Mrs. Hattie Hamel, 1012 West Eleventh avenue, by her son, Sgt. Charles B. Hamel, 25, U. S. Army, Cavalry. Sgt. Hamel, a former student at Navarro High school, has been in the regular army for five years and was in a CCC camp two years previous to that time.

Other trophies sent Mrs. Hamel by her son include stars off a Jap general, three gold teeth, a knife, various denominations of paper money, and coins, etc.

Sgt. Hamel has been overseas more than a year, and has seen action on Los Negros and the Admiralty Islands.

PHOTOGRAPH OF COL. DELAHAY IN CALCUTTA PAPER

A group photograph appearing in the April 15, 1944, issue of a Calcutta, India, newspaper carried a photograph of Lieut. Col. William A. Delahay, U. S. Army Air Forces, and the viceroy of India.

The following was carried with the picture: "The viceroy recently visited the headquarters of the famous Seventh Bombardment Group of the Tenth U. S. Army Air Forces. He is here seen talking to Major Gen. Howard C. Davidson, commanding general of the Tenth U. S. Air Force and Stragetic Air Force, Eastern Command, and Lieut. Col. William A. Delahay, commanding officer of the group."

Col. Delahay is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben T. Delahay, Corsicana.

Canning at Frost.

Citizens of Frost and community are being provided canning equipment in the Frost school building every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m., according to an announcement. The equipment is being provided by the government and interested persons need only to furnish the produce and containers. All are asked to cooperate with the government and "can everything you cannot eat."

HAY SEASON IS HERE

We are headquarters for hay machinery and repairs. We have but very little machinery but our stock of repairs is complete. You will find here most everything you will need for Mowers, Presses and Rakes.

We strive hard with the small amount of help we have to keep our stock of repairs full—however, we are handicapped for the need of help and so are the distributors at Dallas, so we will all have to be patient and do the best we can.

Plowing season is here and you will need a good plow soon. We have only one new one, but several good used ones, overhauled and ready for service. Call and see these, maybe we can trade.

BREEDING SEASON will soon be over. Bring your mares to our barn north of American Well and Prospecting Co. We have one real good Jack, one Palemento and one Tennessee Walking Horse. These two horses are registered and will pay dividends on your investment.

CORSICANA WAC IS NOW STATIONED AT CASPER, WYOMING

ARMY AIR FIELD, Caspar, Wyoming, June 13.—(Spl.)—Versatile and entertaining, talentsd and radiant with personality will best describe pretty, brown-eyed Pvt. Pearl E Gafford of Corsicana, Texas, who was one of the newcomers on the air field recently. Better known as "Tex" to her sister soldiers, she entered the army Feb. 13, 1944, and received her basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. Upon completion of her schooling she was sent to the Casper Army Air Field, arriving here in April, 1944.

Pearl graduated from Corsicana high school in 1940. Being interested in the technical facts of radio she further attended a school of technology at Waco, Texas, before she worked for the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation. It was here she became experienced with B-24 bombers....and the army was soon interested to have the benefit of her experience. Today she is working as a radio technician and expressed herself as being "in love with her work."

However, her capabilities and aboundance of energy in the intertaininng world may decide a different career for her after the war's end. For she may land in Broadway's lap.

There is never a dull moment with Pearl around. She might do a clever impersonation or entertain with castanets. Furthermore she dances well and has a passion for jitterbugging.

Included in her long list of hobbies is oil painting and she has won several blue ribbons for her work. Tucked away in the field of sports is her fondness for horseback riding, hunting, fishing and roller skating.

Pearl likes Casper and its people and has a tender affection for its snowcapped mountains.

PEACE BODY

Pasvotsky officials of the state department who have been working on postwar planning.

"It is our thought," the President said in his statement, "that the organization (for international cooperation) would be a fully representative body with broad responsibilities for promoting and facilitating international cooperation."

Elective Council

The organization, he continued, "would provide for a council, elected annually by the fully representative body of all nations, which would include the four major nations and a suitable number of other nations. The council would concern itself with peaceful settlement of international disputes and with the prevention of threats to the peace or breaches of the peace."

Mr. Roosevelt's statement emphasized we are "not thinking of a super state with its own police force and other paraphernalia of coercive power."

His statement said consideration of a postwar organization has been in the formative stage for 18 months and he praised what he termed "the entirely non-partisan nature of these consultations."

Kerens Fortress Gunner Received Oak Leaf Cluster

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England, June 14.—(Spl.)—Staff Sgt. Oscar Shelton, 21, of Kerens, Texas, gunner on an Eighth AAF Flying Fortress, has been presented an Oak Leaf Cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" while participating in heavy bombing assaults on vital Nazi targets in Germany and the occupied countries of Europe.

Sgt. Shelton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar S. Shelton, Kerens, entered the service Sept. 28, 1942, prior to which he was a clerk at Corsicana.

LIEUT. MACINNES IN NAVY HOSPITAL AT NORFOLK, VA.

Lieut. (j.g.) Godron MacInnes, Navy Chaplain, injured when the escort carrier Block Island was lost in the Atlantic, is now in a Naval hospital at Norfolk, Va., according to information in a letter from Mrs. MacInnes, Pasadena, California, received by Mrs. A. C. Sloan.

In the letter Mrs. MacInnes states that her husband suffered a hand injury and that an operation is to be performed. She said her husband was getting along fine and that he hoped to be transferred to a hospital in Pasadena at an early date. She said he was first landed at Miami, Florida, and then sent to Norfolk.

Lieut. MacInnes was pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church here when he entered the service.

LEE SATTERWHITE
—for—
Lieutenant Governor
Subject to Action Democratic Primary July 22, 1944.
Home Address: Austin, Travis County, Texas.

My candidacy is the result of my own initiative. I am not the candidate of any clique or special group. I believe in our Republican form of government with its constitutional authority and limitations. I believe that elected officials are the chosen servants of the people to administer certain well defined and specific trusts for THEM.

My life has been that of a farmer, rancher, country newspaper editor and publisher; VETERAN OF THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR; served, at intervals over a period of years, seven terms as member of the Texas House of Representatives; elected and served the 39th Legislature as Speaker of the House.

OUR FIRST DUTY IS TO WIN THE WAR.

If I am elected your Lieutenant Governor, instead of chasing around over the country seeking every opportunity to denounce this and that in terms of speech calculated to stir up class hatred and bitterness, I shall lend my efforts toward making Texas the greatest state in the union industrially, commercially and agriculturally.

PACIFIC WAR

600 miles from Tokyo, constitute the innermost Pacific defenses of the Japanese mainland.

Successful invasion of the Marianas—which include U. S.-owned Guam, largest of the group—would advance Nimitz' fleet bases 1,000 miles westward from the present advanced positions in the Marshall's.

Operation on Vast Scale

The vast scale of the operation was indicated by the Allied diversions. Southwest Pacific bombers repeatedly hit at Palau and Truk south of the Marianas; central Pacific planes also hit Truk, and a second task force attacked the Kurile Islands 500 miles northeast of Japan for two days.

Meanwhile the biggest current land battle of the Pacific War centered at Changsha in Central China, with Chungkig reporting Chinese defenders holding off enemy forces attacking the city from three sides. The Japanese have thrown 200,000 men into the battle, Chung said.

An important battle was joined between British forces and Japanese defending Mogaung, 35 miles west of Myitkyina in North Burma, Southeast Asia headquarters announced. Capture of these two cities is vital to Lt. Gen. Joseph Stillwell's plan to link the Ledo and Burma roads between India and China.

Texans Win Awards

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, June 15—(AP)—A group of Texans included in those receiving recent awards from Lt. Col. Geo. C. Kenney, commander of the Allied air forces in the Southwest Pacific.

He awarded the air medal to First Lieut. Onbaldo Garza, 144 West St. Charles Street, Brownsville.

The soldier's medal was awarded to Lt. Col. Gwen G. Atkinson 1105 South First St., Lufkin.

Wins Navy Medal

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Awards and citations for Texans were disclosed yesterday by the navy.

They included:

Lieut. (jg) Curtis Pearson Waggoner, of navy supply corps, son of Mrs. Sue Waggoner, 204 Center St., Denton, Texas navy and Marine corps Medal for heroic conduct while attached to the destroyer U. S. S. Henley, torpedoed and sunk in Southwest Pacific Oct. 1943.

Battle for Mogaung

SOUTHEAST ASIA, Command Headquarters, Kandy, Ceylon, June 15—(AP)—The battle for the North Burma town of Mogaung was joined today, with chindits (British air-borne troops) and a jungle force under Brig. "Mad Mike" Calvert striking by surprise from the East aimed by maximum American bomber and fighter suport.

Capturing the neighboring villages of Pin-Nmi and Mohaung, the force—which included Lancashire Fusiliers and South Staffordshires—took an ammunition dump estimated to hold 200 railway car-loads.

Observers reported tht the Japanese were caught completely unaware by the initial thrust. The battle is developing in fierce proportions with heavy casualties on both sides, they said.

would help solve the ticklish situation.

A London Standard editorial characterized De Gaulle's visit to France as "widely welcomed" on both sides of the Channel and said "whatever may be in the political differences still to be resolved, the paramount need of the hour is that the military campaign should be assisted in every way possible."

The newspaper saw in the visit "recognition" by Gen. Eisenhower of the importance of the partisans' role in the battle for France, and commented it would have been "tragic of political differences in any way blighter the hopes of advantages to be secured for our cause now by full mobilization of the resistance movement."

The Evening News called the trip "timely," adding that "like the people of Normandy, citizens of the rest of France want to hear the voice of a French leader. It is to be hoped that the diplomatic tangles and mysteries surrounding the relationship between Britain and America and De Gaulle be cleared up speedily."

Received Warm Welcome

De Gaulle's return to France yesterday, for the first time in four years, received a warm welcome from cheering crowds. No official disclosure of the length of his visit was made, but the Brazzaville radio in French, equatorial Africa said he stayed only a few hours.

But the enthusiasm with which the French greeted him was marred by a reported disagreement involving employment of French liaison officers during the invasion. On this subject, however, British-American diplomatic quarters remained silent.

While he was receiving his ovation in Normandy, qualified sources in London said De Gaulle had withdrawn all but a handful of Fighting French liasion officers at the very moment Allied troops were moving onto the assault beaches. A similar report came from high authorities in Washington.

It was said here that these officers had been counted upon by the Allied supreme command to act in a liaison capacity with the French people to help take over civil administration.

His action was attributed to anger over the Allies' non-recognition of his national liberation committee as the provisional government of France and the refusalof the supreme command to let him take over the issuing of radio directions to the French people on D-day.

Referring to the Washington report that De Gaulle had conceded orders for several hundred French officers to land with the first waves in the invasion, De Gaulle's press attache said:

Incredible Report

"This is a most incredible report. We cancelled no such agreement for we never signed such an agreement. We negotiated several months with the Allies prior to the invasion, but as the whole world knows we reached no agreement with the American government nor with the Allied commanders, either on the government of the liberated territory or on sending liasion officers with the invasion forces.

"As to reports that cooperation between the French population and the Allied armies had been impaired—that is quite possible, but it is not our fault."

It was said in London that the arrangements had been made between the supreme headquarters civil affairs branch and Brig. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig, assistant chief of the Fighting French general staff, and that De Gaulle permitted only a token force of 20 French officers to go with the Allied tropos. Because of restrictions on communications from Britain, Koenig was not in touch with De Gaulle when the arrangements were made, it was explained.

mid-afternoon claimed they were again in possession of the town.

American troops also were engaged in heavy fighting in the Pont L'Abbe area, four miles north of Pretot, and along the road from Montebourg to Quineville on the coast.

The Americans hammered out gains both in the Pont L'Abbe area nad around Quineville, which represents the allied right flank, headquarters said.

The heavy nature of the fighting was plainly indicated by the German high command, which said the battle is "approaching a climax" and growing more violent every day with the allies hitting hard in all directions to enlarge their bridgehead.

Americans Capture Quineville.

Field dispatches late today said American troops had captured Quineville in the course of hard fighting.

A DNB broadcast from Berlin said the Americans launched two other thrusts, one with a fresh division on both sides of the road leading southwest from Bayeux toward St. Lo, and the other through the partly flooded lowlands between Carentan and Isigny.

The former thrust was from the south of the Biards Forest, the Germans said, and achieved an initial penetration which was declared to have been stopped.

The second jab was through the area criss-crossed by canals linking the Vire and Taute rivers, DNB said.

Approaching Climax.

The fierceness of the fighting was attested by the German high command, which broadcast that the allies were trying to enlarge their bridgehead "toward all sides," adding that "with freshly brought-up infantry and tank forces being thrown into action on both sides, the battle is approaching a climax."

The American advance was on a nine-mile front westward from Carentan toward high ground controlling the last German roads leading to Cherbourg.

Violent German reaction to the threat to the lifeline was expected, and it was likely further American advances would be only after the costliest fighting.

Yankees Plunge Ahead.

The Yankees plunged into the Les Sablons-Baupte area, south of Ste. Mere Eglise and west of Carentan Seven miles to the westward is high ground overlooking La Haye Puits, through which runs the last remaining major north-south highway on the peninsula, still in German hands.

The advance placed the Americans nearly half way across the peninsula at its narrowest point.

Toward the tip of the peninsula hand-to-hand fighting surged between Germans and troops of the U. S. Fourth division in the streets of Montebourg, 14 miles southeast of Cherbourg.

American artillery was shelling the road from Montebourg to Valognes to the northwest, and the doughboys controlled the road from Quineville on the coast, to Montebourg, but the town itself changed hands from hour to hour.

American airborne troops spearheaded the fighting around Carentan and besides pushing to the west shoved the Germans back more than a mile south of the town.

LONDON, June 15.—(AP)—Today's German communique said that the fighting in Normandy was increasing in violence and that the allies were making powerful efforts to enlarge their bridgehead in all directions.

"Among salvoes of heaviest naval guns, incessant air attacks and with freshly brought up infantry and tank forces being thrown into action on both sides the battle is approaching a climax,'" the German high command declared.

Allied parachute troops which landed behind German lines northeast of St. Lo were wiped out, the broadcast said, and several "stiffly defended" villages east of Caumont were taken by German forces.

To the west an north of St. Mere Eglise, however, it was admitted the allied forces gained ground.

The communique asserted that 14 allied transports totaling 101,000 tons and two destroyers were sunk or damaged by German aerial bombs and torpedoes last night

A fresh allied landing attempt off the mouth of the Orne was beaten off the communique said, by coastal batteries which dispersed the landing formation and damaged a cruiser and destroyer.

Prisoners of War Need Mail Keep Up Their Morale

"Letters from home!"

These three simple words designate the most important item on the list of morale-builders for American prisoners of war in enemy lands, according to Mrs. Sid Story, chairman of the prisoner of war committee of the Navarro County Red Cross chapter.

"Mail from family and friends is a tangible sign to a captive Yank that he is not forgotten, even though he is behind barbed wire," Mrs. Story said. "Because of the many restrictions and difficulties involved, it is particularly important that persons corresponding with prisoners of war understand the factors governing their mail."

Recently, the International Red Cross committee in Switzerland advised that the German government has construed certain colored post cards with illustrations and slogans as offensive propaganda. As a result, it is possible that much mail sent to German-interned prisoners has been destroyed without the addressee or the sender being notified, officials have asserted.

Victory Slogans Barred.

"We must remember that all mail going to American prisoners of war is censored by the Germans," the local prisoner of war chairman stated. "They are not likely to greet such slogans as 'V for Victory,' or 'God Bless America' with affection. In fact, you can hardly expect them to pass such material on to Americans in their custody."

Because all letters and packages going to prisoners of war are censored before leaving the United States for reasons of military security as well as by enemy authorities, it is important that they contain items and information of a strictly personal nature, accroding to the local prisoner of war chairman.

No printed matter or newspaper clippings may be sent to prisoner of war, although personal photographs can be sent in letters. However, no message or autograph can be placed on the picture, either on the front or back.

Money Cannot Be Sent.

"Another fact that friends and relatives do not always remember is that money cannot be sent to prisoners of war," Mrs. Story warned. "Sometimes well-meaning people have tried to evade this restriction by concealing cash in various items sent to prisoners. When this has been discovered by the German censors, it has seriously jeopardized delivery of whole shipments of gift parcels and mail."

Letters to prisoners of war should be written legibly and typed, if possible, in order to facilitate censorship and speed delivery, it was brought out. The tone of the letters should be cheery and encouraging, as they depend on the home folk to help keep up their morale. Besides, they are in no position to help solve problems back home while they are prisoners of war.

Red Cross officials stress the fact that communication is possible when the regulations are recognized by relatives of the interned Americans.

Rice Soldier Is Given Promotion

15TH ARMY AIR FORCE, June 13, —(Spl)—Forest T. Blount, 35, whose wife Mrs Geraldine Blount lives in Rice, Tex., has been promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant according to an announcement by 15th Air Force Headquarters.

Sgt. Blount is an assistant crew chief of a B-24 Liberator bomber in Southern Italy. He was a cashier before entering the service.

WOUNDED IN ACTION — Pvt. James H Carroll, 20, U. S. Army, Infantry, was wounded in action in Italy May 22, according to a telegram from the War Department received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carroll, Richland, Route No. 1. A graduate of the Blooming Grove nigh school he entered the service March 4, 1943. At the completion of basic training at Camp Butner, N. C., he went overseas in January, 1944. Pvt. Carroll has been awarded the Purple Heart.

COMMENDATION FOR CORSICANA MARINE KILLED IN ACTION

A Letter of Commendation, posthumously awarded to Private James E. McMillan, U. S. Marine Corps Reserve, signed by Major General W. H. Rupertus, U. S. Marine Corps, Commanding First Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, has been received by his mother, Mrs. Alma Womack, 501 Commerce street.

Pvt. McMillan was killed in action against Japanese forces at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, January 2, 1944.

The Letter of Commendation follows:

"For meritorious devotion to duty while serving with the First Marine Division, during action against enemy Japanese forces at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, on January 2, 1944. Private James Ellis McMillan, United States Marine Corps Reserve, displayed unusual courage and initiative while advancing under heavy enemy rifle machinegun and mortar fire. While delivering devastating fire upon the enemy, Private McMillan was fatally wounded. He gallantly gave his life in the service of his country. At all times during these operations, he displayed an indomitable fighting spirit. His devotion to duty was an inspiration to his comrades and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the Naval Service."

Quebec formerly was known as New France.

PVT. E. D. M'CORMICK WITHDRAWS RACE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Pvt. E. D. McCormick, U .S. Army, Camp Barkeley, Texas, withdrew from the race for re-nomination as county judge of Navarro county in a statement issued from the office of Judge Beatrice McCormick, his wife, Tuesday afternoon.

In a statement dictated by long-distance telephone to Miss Mary Jane Etter, secretary in the county judge's office, Pvt. McCormick said:

"My status as a soldier in the Army of the United States and the current circumstances attendant thereto, added to anticipated future assignment in the Service, causes me to announce that I will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination as county judge of Navarro county.

"I express sincere gratitude to my people for the things they have done for me and my family, and I am certain we all join in the fervent hope that in the not too distant future this war will be won and once more we may conduct our lives according to our choosing and be neighbors in the blessed tranquility of peace."

Pvt. McCormick recently resigned as county udge to enter the armed forces and the commissioners court appointed Mrs. McCormick to fill the unexpired term. Prior to becoming county judge, McCormick served several years as mayor of Frost. He was prominent in the affairs of the county judge and commissioners associations and is a member of the postwar planning commission appointed by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

His withdrawal leaves Pat Geraughty and Lonnie L. Powell as candidates for the post. The time-limit for filing will expire June 17. Mrs. McCormick will not run for the office, she said Tuesday afternoon.

MARIANAS

ganging up on Truk and Southwest Pacific planes are ammering steadily at Palau in order to prevent those two Carolines naval and air forces from interfering with the Marianas operation.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, in his third communique this week on the Marianas, said that warships, including big battlewagons, opened up their guns on Tinian and Saipan Monday and that carrier planes Tuesday prolonged the attacks they began Saturday. He gave no inkling that the operation has ended.

Josephine Winkler, Capt. L. W. Boone Married in Waco

Miss Josephine Elizabeth Winkler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Winkler, and Capt. Lloyd W. Boone, son of Mrs. Mary Boone of Junction, were married on Monday at 12:15 o'clock in the chapel at Blackland Army Air Field, Waco.

The bride was attired in a white eyelet batiste dress, with black and white accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, Capt. and Mrs. Boone left for Santo Monica, Calif., on their honeymoon.

The bride was graduated from Corsicana High School, and was employed as cashier at Buck's Cafe for two years.

The bridegroom received primary training at Corsicana Field, his basic at Waco Army Air Field, and his advanced at Ellington Field, Houston, where he received his wings, and on June 6th, returned from combat duty overseas.

Surprise Patriotic Shower

On Friday evening, Capt. Boone and Miss Winkler were honored with a surprise patriotic shower at the home of the bride's parents on West Fourth Avenue.

Te prospective bride and groom occupied seats of honor at the shower, with a United States flag and red and white ribbons giving accent to the occasion.

Gifts were piled high on a table laid in white linen and adorned with summer blossoms in the chosen colors.

Games provided diversion throughout the evening, and prizes were won by Mesdames Buck Davis, Bruce Null and Belle Schitoskey.

Red, white and blue plates, napkins and tea glasses were used for the refreshment interlude, at which time the hostess served ribbon sandwiches in the patriotic colors, individual white-iced cakes, centred with miniature U. S. flags, and vanilla ice cream adorned with red and blue decorative candies. The refreshments were prepared by Fred Dickson, chef at Buck's Cafe.

Fifty guests shared the courtesy with the honorees.

Mrs. I. F. Brown, the former Miss Annie Beatrice Winkler, of West Palm Beach, Fla., arrived one day late for the pre-nuptial courtesies, which was a disappointment to both honorees.

White Selectees Take Physical.

A contingent of prospective white selectees were sent to Dallas Tuesday by Navarro county draft board No. 1 for pre-induction physcial examinations.

Two reasons why a Checking Account is

MORE IMPORTANT

THAN EVER BEFORE

War has added two new reasons to the already lengthy list of arguments in favor of Checking Accounts:

1. SAVE TIME. The war program calls for all the time we all can spare. Checks eliminate waste motion, make for efficiency.
2. KEEP RECORDS. New, high taxes require accurate records so that you can compute your correct tax payment. Checks provide a permanent, accurate record.

We invite you to start a Checking Account at this bank.

The San Antonio committee meeting will be held in the St. Anthony Hotel, starting at 10 a. m. Friday.

GRASSHOPPERS ARE DAMAGING CROPS; POISON AVAILABLE

Grasshoppers are reported to be damaging crops in localities of the county, according to County Agent H. C Robinson. These outbreaks are not extensive but warrant control measures if serious damage to individual fields is to be avoided.

A supply of govenment bran and poison has been received here, Robinson said, and is available to organized groups of farmers who will assume responsibility of mixing the bait and distributing it through community mixing stations. Regulations stipulates that it must be handled in this manner, and that the materials can not be issued to individuals before the bait is prepared and ready for application.

Robinson suggests that farmers needing this material contact him for details regarding the opening of a mixing station.

FORMER CADET OF CORSICANA FIELD IS PROMOTED TO RANK OF MAJOR

A U. S. NINTH AIR FORCE, England, June 14.—(Spl.)—Announcement of the promotion of Captain Cletus Wray whose wife lives in Corsicana, Texas, to the rank of major was recently made by Ninth Air Force headquarters

Major Wray, son of Mrs. Henry Wray, Tiptonville, Tenn., is an operations officer in the "Silver Streaks" Marauder group commanded by Col. Reginald Vance, San Antonio, Texas. Holder of the Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters, he has taken part in raids over France, Holland and Belgium, battering airfields, railways and military installations. Highlighting his part in attacks on the enemy was the famous Ijmuiden "revenge" raid on which, flying his ship "Fourth Term," he led one of the formations for this group which devastated harbor installations.

He has been cited by Col. Vance for his "part in the superb bombing" of a Pas de Calais target which was demolished in the face of heavy defenses.

Major Wray graduated from the Riverside Military Academy at Gainesville, Ga., and attended Union University at Jackson, Tenn., where he played four years of football.

He enlisted at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. in July, 1942, took flight training at Corsicana and Randolph Field, and received his wings and commission in February, 1942, at Ellington Field, Tex. He became an operations officer at Lakeland, Flo., in November, 1943.

An older brother, Delmus, is serving in the South Pacific. Major Wray is in the same unit with another flying Tennessean, Major Jewell C. Maxwell of Whitehaven, Tenn., who is squadron commander.

One of life's little ironies was witnessed at Major Wray's base recently. Major Wray, an expectant father, happily painted his ship, "Wray and Son," for he expected a son and heir. However, the stork was obstinate about it, and instead, a daughter was born, but the major continues to use the same name and motto on his ship.

Major Wray, member of Class 42-B, completed his primary training at Corsicana Field in September, 1941. His wife is the former Miss Margie Lockett.

NEGRO CONVICT FROM NAVARRO COUNTY IS KILLED THURSDAY

Willie Stubblefield, 34, negro, serving ten years from Navarro and Ellis counties on burglary indictments, was shot to death, and another negro, Ruby Jones, 35, was gravely wounded early today at the Ramsey prison farm, according to an Associated Press dispatch from Huntsville

The report quoted prison officials as saying the two negroes were shot by a guard as they attempted to escape from the blacksmith shop shortly after starting the day's work.

Jones was serving a life sentence for burglaries in Smith, Rusk and Henderson counties.

Stubblefield was sentenced in the Thirteenth Judicial District Court here, Feb. 14, 1942, on four burglary indictments for not less than two nor more than ten years, the sentences to run concurrent, it was stated at the district clerk's office Thursday afternoon.

NEAR RECORD WHEAT CROP FOR TEXAS IS FORECAST BY USDA

AUSTIN, Tex., June 14—(AP)—May rains greatly improved Texas range and crop prospects and one result is an anticipated wheat crop of 61,095,000 bushels, second only to the record 1931 production of 67,983,000 bushels, the U. S. department of agriculture reported.

The report, based on conditions of June 1, said ranges were 88 per cent of normal compared with 79 per cent a month earlier. Exceptions to generally good conditions were in parts of the Pecos-El Paso area, some counties in the South Planes and others in the Northwest Plateau.

The department's report foresaw better than average crops of oats and barley, an average peach crop, good prospects for pears and largely favorable citrus prospects.

REPRESENTATIVES OF FIVE OIL STATES IN SESSION WITH PAW

SEVEN CHANGES APPROVED IN PAW WAR REGULATIONS FOR INDUSTRY

By BRACK CURRY

HOUSTON, June 15.—(AP)—Representatives of oil and gas regulatory bodies of five states today approved seven alterations to Petroleum Administration for War regulations designed to promote prosecution of the war.

Prepared by the production committee of PAW's district three, the proposals were endorsed by Oklahoma, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico and Kansas officials.

The recommendations were headed by a proposal to eliminate the distance provisions with respect to oil well drilling in states having regulatory bodies.

"The thought in recommending such a modification is that this would permit industry and the state regulatory bodies to determine what in their opinion, should be the most effective ultimate development pattern for any particular field or pool," said a statement released by the committee.

Deputy Petroleum Administrator Ralph K. Davies, addressing 300 oil men at the meeting, said "These are good, specific suggestions."

Don't Function That Way.

"I can't give you an answer to them at the moment," Davies said, "because we don't function that way, but we'll make them the first order of business when I return to Washington."

The other recommendations included:

1. Require that operators in drilling oil wells continue to conform to the present requirements of PAO-11 with respect to size, shape, and ownership of drilling units. However, as material becomes more available, the Petroleum Administration for War should relax the requirements as to the size of the drilling units in conformity with the recommendation of the industry and the state regulatory bodies for the individual field or pool.

More Than One Pool.

2. Where more than one reservoir or pool occurs in the same field and such pool is so recognized in the orders of the state regulatory bodies, it may be developed in conformance with paragraphs 1 and 2, and the development of each reservoir should be permitted independently of the wells drilled to other reservoirs in the same field. In many instances in the same field, reservoirs or appreciable size that would contribute greatly to the war effort have not been developed so that they can produce at their maximum efficient rate because of the present restriction limiting the drilling unit to surface spacing.

3. Restrictions with respect to working over or deepening wells should be modified to permit recompleting a well in the same pool from which it had previously produced without any restriction. If the well is completed in a pool other than from which it had previously produced, the only requirement should be that it conform to drilling unit requirements for that pool.

Fifteen-Day Test Period.

4. Require than any well drilled for oil in an oil field, but completed as a gas or condensate well, shall not be produced for other than drilling or lease purposes beyond a 15-day test period unless it is completed on a 640-acre unit, or unless an exception is granted by Petroleum Administration for War, or unless supplemental rooders applicable to particular fields are entered or exist.

5. It should be permissible to drill gas or condensate wells without restriction other than that of state regulatory bodies, provided each well is located on a 640-acre drilling unit.

6. The use of second hand pumping equipment should not be limited to any particular well density providing no new surface equipment is required to complete a single well installation, allowing an expenditure of 100.00 for new surface items of a minor nature.

A VETERAN'S HE-MAN LETTER COUNSELS A YOUNG SOLDIER*

Aged Paul, Dungeon-bound and Doomed, Incites Timothy to Militant Virtures—A Program For Christian Service—The Valedictory of a Veteran.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS

Fortunate is the young man who has a wise old man for an intimate friend; and fortunate is the old man with a young friend to whom he can pass on the lessons of life that he has learned. Each is a boon and a joy to the other.

Such was the relationship between the veteran warrior of the Gospel, the Apostle Paul, and his young convert from Lystra, Timothy. They loved each other as strong men love. Each complemented the other, like model father and son. Often the youngel was sent on missions to represent the elder; and their times together were occasions of happy team work.

When Youth Teaches Youth

Ideals are epidemic, like the measles. New notions of conduct sweep through a company of youth like contagion. It is one of the defects of adolescence that boys and girls give more heed to the practices of their fellows than to the admonitions of their parents. Everybody's Doing It" is the music of the devil's dance that is leading so many young persons into delinquency.

To multitudes fear of the crowd mind is greater than fear of God's wrath. Immaturity goes to school to immaturity; even though the smallest measure of reasoning would suggest that inexperience should seek counsel of experience. Between the two wars we have seen a runaway generation of youth, because the admonitions of maturity have been disregarded. (True; there has been more of admonition than of example.)

At this present cross-roads of history every thoughtful man and woman should confront the responsibility of guiding, by tested and eternal standards, the young persons they can reach. If there were more Paul's there would be more Timothys.

Memories and Monitions

This he-man letter which we study is the last utterance of Paul that has been preserved. He was now the aged prisoner, doomed to early martydom. The clank of a prisoner's chains sounds through the letter; but also the blasts of a victorious warror's bugle. This is not a pacifist document: it exalts the soldier virtues. At the same time it breathes the heart-hunger of a lonely old man for the presence of his vitalizing young comrade.

Lystra, the mid-Turkey town where Paul first met Timothy, is now a mud village of ruins and malaria; and Rome, where last they had been together, is, at the moment of writing, threatened by wars' devastation. But the clear, strong teaching of this letter—and the writer intended it only as a personal letter—seem peculiarly applicable to our times. Our young men, both in and out of service, need this counsel.

It is worthy of remark that the prisoner-apostle found time for letters to one young man. Charles Sumner is reported to have said, "I have no time for individuals." "Then you are one up on the Lord Almighty," helped his friend. All of the highbrows who are making graphs of mass changes in society need to turn to Paul; for he knew and taught that it is only by changed individuals that a remade world must come. The Sunday School teacher who is quietly leading a group of boys or girls into the Pauline pattern of life is doing a better service for the world than many a rabble-rouser.

Strong or Strengthened

One change frequently made by the Revised Version is the use of the passive, instead of active voice. In the Authorized Version, the opening words of the portion of this Letter that is printed for study are, "Thou, therefore, my son, be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus." In the Revised Version, here, as in other passages, there is a significant change: "Thou, therefore, my child, be strengthened in the grace that is in Christ Jesus" The center of the power is shifted. Strength is not of ourselves, but imparted from above. Not in our own might, but in the helping power of Christ, we are to be made strong. The needed strength is to come, not from self, but from the All-Power.

Again there is a significant change in our text by the Revisers, who get apart, as it were, a slogan, the three words, "Remember Jesus Christ." Here we have Paul's putting of an all-sufficient counsel for every circumstance of life. Amidst monotony or peril in temptation or in exultation, "Remember Jesus Christ."

As Paul plied counsel upon counsel for the young frined who was to carry on his work—so soon to be ended, as he well knew—he burst into a pean of victory, that sounds strange, coming from a dungeon-bound, aged man, who could see the executioner's sword flashing in the near distance: I have finished the course. I have kept the faith."

GERMAN SUBMARINE IN NORTH ATLANTIC FISHING GROUNDS

NAZI U-BOAT SHELLED AND MACHINE-GUNNED BOSTON TRAWLER

BOSTON, June 15—(AP)—A German submarine invaded the North Atlantic fishing grounds recently, shelled and machine-gunned a Boston trawler and forced all but two of the crew to abandon ship.

The submersible finally left, her skipper apparently thinking the trawler would sink. Then the crew put the vessel in shape and brought her into port early today, her hull and superstructure looking almost like a sieve.

Details of the attack were given at a press conference by Captain James L. Abbott, 35, skipper of the fishing vessel the Lark, owned by F J. O'Hara Brothers, Boston operators. The vessel is 145 gross tons.

The sub first was sighted about 2:30 a. m.. Captain Abbott said but was mistaken at first for a friendly patrol boat. Then John Aspell, at the wheel, got a good look in the moonlight night and Abbott immediately roused the crewmen who were sleeping.

The enemy fired one shot across the bow and then opened up with machine guns as the fishermen scrambled into their dories. Captain Abbott, his 74-year-old cook Dan Maloney and the ship's dog, Rex, remained aboard.

The sub fired from about 300 feet, the Captain said, but there were no casualties. Then the underseas craft vanished and the men pulled about a mile from their ship. One dory started back, however, and the U-boat returned.

This time she circled, slamming shells into the Lark.

"There were 500 holes in the sails," Abbott related. Seven large holes were ripped in the hull. Abbott said a third type of weapon which he coud not describe also was used.

After 20 minutes the sub pulled away, leaving the ship apparently helpless with a damaged engine. The U-boat then went among the dories but did not fire.

The dories eventually returned to the Lark and the men got the Diesel motor started and then manned the pumps. The Lark shipped water en route home but the pumps averted further danger.

REASSIGNMENT OF BISHOPS ANNOUNCED TULSA CONFERENCE

TULSA, Okla., June 15.—(AP)—The Methodist South-Central Jurisdictional conference today announced reassignment of five of its six bishops.

Only Bishop A. Frank Smith, head of the Houston area, is retained in his old jurisdiction which embraces the Texas and Southeast Mexican area.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, presently assigned to the Dallas territory, was transferred to St. Louis, to succeed Bishop John Calvin Broomfield, who has reached the retirement age.

Dr. Paul E. Martin of Wichita Falls, Texas, who was elevated to the bishopric yesterday, was assigned to the Little Rock area.

"HITLER DOOM BILL," $49,109,002,795 WAR DEPARTMENT FUNDS

THAT AMOUNT SOUGHT TO FINANCE WAR DEPARTMENT FOR NEXT YEAR

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Unanimous House pasage sent to the Senate today a $49,109,002,795 army appropriation bill for the fiscal year starting July 1.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—(AP)—Conveying the "hope" of military leaders that Germany will be knocked out of the war by next January 1, Representative Snyder (D-Pa) urged the house today to approve unanimously a $49,109,002,795 "Hitler doom bill."

The big bill, to finance the war department for the year starting July 1, was described by the chairman of the appropriations military sub-committee as one that also "will soften Tojo for his doom that shortly will follow" the downfall of Germany.

It boosts to approximately $390,000,000,000 war and defense obligations incurred since July 1, 1940.

"This bill x x x provides General Eisenhower with his knockout punch," the Pennsylvanian told a house waiting to give its overwhelming approval to the measure. "The first round started June 6. The day of the last round we just cannot predict, but we can fervently hope that it will come before the snow flies again."

"It is the hope of our military leadership that Germany will be out of the war before another year begins" he added.

The bill carries $15,436,031,195 in new funds and $33,672,971,000 in reappropriations of funds previously allotted.

Referring to testimony given the appropriations committee by Lieut. Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, deputy chief of staff, that the scale of battles to be fought would be "beyond anything heretofore experienced," the Pennsylvanian said the pending bill provided the funds for the manpower and material needed for large-scale offensives."

"Wars just do not always run on pre-established schedules," he added, referring to allowances for more prolonged action which "might occasion delays not presently anticipated."

Snyder declared it would be "unwise" to reduce the army's budget in the midst of a life-and-death war but promised that his committee would review the entire program in December to detremine if any savings could be effected and funds returned to the treasury.

Machinists Return To Work Shipyards New Orleans Today

NEW ORLEANS, June 15.—(AP)—Delta Shipbuilding Company, Inc., officials announced today that day-shift machinists returned to their jobs at 7:30 a.m., following a 13-day work stoppage which had threatened to tie up the entire yards.

Others of the 650 involved in the stoppage were expected by labor and management representatives to report for the afternoon and night shifts.

A joint announcement last night by the U. S. Labor Conciliation Service and the War Production Board's division of labor relations said an agreement had been reached between the company and Local No. 37, International Association og Machinists (AFL).

The walkout involved a protest against the resignation of William Flaherty, superintendent of Machinists at the yard.

Stevenson Stands Up For State Rights

HOUSTON, June 15—(AP)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, again championing states' rights, asserted in a Flag Day address here yesterday, "the Flag is a banner that stands for all the rights guaranteed in the constitution, particularly in the rights of states."

He said "there are certain things better understood by states than those far removed from them and should be governed by the states."

SUPREME COURT OF TEXAS HAS ORDERED ELECTORS HEARING

HIGH COURT TAKES JURISDICTION IN DEMOCRATIC MUDDLE

AUSTIN, Tex., June 15—(AP)—The State Supreme Court has taken jurisdiction in the presidential elector fight and ordered a hearing June 19 on the subject which has caused sharp cleavage in Texas Democratic ranks.

The tribunal yesterday granted permission to pro-Roosevelt forces to file application for mandamus which would compel the party's executive committee to certify on the July 22 primary election ballot presidential electors picked by the pro-Roosevelters in an offshoot convention from the party's regularly-constituted meet.

The regular convention named electors—and certified them immediately to the secretary of state for printing on the general election ballot—unpledged to support the party's nominees unless certain conditions are met by the National convention in Chicago.

Traditionally, the party's nominees for electors have been named in convention since 1846. But the pro-Roosevelt faction declare that electors are state officers and as such must be selected through the primary election. This faction declares the voters will be denied a free choice of electors if their list is not printed on the primary ballot.

The committee, the constituted administrative group for the party, answers that only the state convenion which derives is powers from precinct and county conventions can name the electors. The bolters' participation in precinct and county meets and their partial participation in the state convention waives the right of complaint as to the method of picking electors, says the committee.

Statutes Are Silent

The committee contends further that statutes are silent as to the method of choosing party nominees for electors and it would be impossible to determine how electors are to be voted upon in a primary, that is, whether in a group or individually.

In taking jurisdiction in the contest the court ordered that the pro-Roosevelt group make parties to the suit electors of the regular convention. Only the executive committee was named originally as respondents by the pro-Roosevelt forces.

Meanwhile the state ballot for the primary election with names of no electors, has been certified by the state executive committee to county executive commitees which mee June 19 to adopt local ballot forms. To the form listing candidates for statewide office county committees attach a list of candidates for local and district offices.

RAINBOW DIVISION WELL TRAINED AND ITCHING FOR FIGHT

CAMP GRUBER, Okla., June 15—(AP)—Troops of the Rainbow Division, finely trained and itching for battle, exhibited their fighting prowess today in a colorful review before Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson and a distinguished gathering of U. S. and Australian military officers.

Celebrating the 169th anniversary of the founding of the U. S. infantry in the Revolutionary War, three regiments of doughboys, four battalions of field artillery, and special troops paraded for one hour on the breeze-swept heights of this Cookson Hills encampment.

During the afternoon, a demonstration of high efficiency killing methods with everything from pistols to flame throwers and 105 millimeter Howitzer was scheduled for the visiting public.

Patterson, himself a doughboy in the first World War, received a 17-gun salute as he entered the camp this morning. He was accompanied by Lt. Gen Sir John Lavarack, chief of the Australian military mision to the United States.

With them on the reviewing stand were five Generals and representatives James H. Fay (D-NY), a member of the famous "Fighting 69th" Division of World War I.

MICKEY ROONEY ACCEPTED BY U. S. ARMY WEDNESDAY

LOS ANGELES, June 15—(AP)—The screen's Mickey Rooney has a new role—and a new salary—today. The army gave him both.

A barracks bag slung over his shoulder, the 22-year-old inductee told reporters at nearby Ft. MacAarthur:

"This is the biggest thing in my life. It makes me happy to know they've accepted me."

The erstwhile No. 1 boxoffice attraction exchanged that designation for an identification number almost as long as his name, and a weekly film salary in four figures for a private's pay.

He was inducted yesterday following a deferment granted to complete film work when he passed his physical last March.

HEARINGS PLANNED POSTWAR PROGRAM ABOUT TAXATION

WASHINGTON, June 15—(AP)—Chairman Reed (R-NY) of the House Republican postwar tax study committee announced today his group would open public hearings soon after the summer Congressional recess on a proposed postwar tax program designed to cut present levies by one-half.

Leaders of business, agriculture, labor and other groups will be invited to testify he said.

"We are unanimously agreed that no time should be lost in formulating a postwar tax program," Reed asserted in a prepared statement. "Apparently the treasury has no postwar tax plan or suggestions. The administration apparently either is unwilling to face the problem or is putting it off to some last-minute date. The time to develop such a plan is now."

The planned hearings would open here, with follow-up sessions at other cities later.

The Reed group is composed of 25 Republican representatives, ten of them members of the tax-writing ways and means committee.

When the GOP committee announced its goal of a 50 per cent cut in postwar taxes recently, chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the ways and means committee termed the move "purely politics."

MORGENTHAU OPENS HOLLYWOOD'S DRIVE IN FIFTH WAR LOAN

HOLLYWOOD, June 15.—(AP)—Movie stars and searchlights formed a brilliant backdrop for Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau, Jr., who opened the Fifth War Loan drive here by informing more than 20,000 persons in Hollywood Bowl that "Victory isn't something our men are going to bring home to us, a present from overseas....Our fighting men are paying for it....So must we."

The secretary told his audience last night:

"It's 4,000 miles from here to the nearest place where our men are fightinug for us. Mile by mile, man for man, their deaths will shorten that distance for us here at home. I know this isn't pleasant talk, but it's plain talk. And this is the time for plain talk.

"If he should die—your boy—we must be worthy of his death. And this is just as important: If he lives, we must be worthy of his willingness to die. This is our war, your's and mine."

Morgenthau said the present European offensive is devouring many of the materials of war faster than America can produce them on present schedules.

"We read about retrechments and cutbacks," he added. "but Gen. Marshall, our chief of staff, wants me to tell you that we must open up new factories immediately because present facilities for the manufacture of some types of equipment aren't meeting demands."

What news will Gen. Eisenhower get from us?

You know now what we've heard from him.

We've heard that Eisenhower and his Americans have hurled themselves like a thunderbolt against the bristling defenses of Hitler's Wehrmacht!

We've heard that they are smashing at our foe—sparing neither steel nor sweat nor blood in one final, furious assault that marks the supreme military effort of this War!

And what news do Eisenhower and his men expect from us?

Men and women of America—what the Invasion is to our fighting men, the 5th War Loan is to us at home!

For us, as well as for them, this is the crisis—the time for tremendous, overwhelming effort! Make no mistake! The 5th War Loan will undoubtedly be the biggest, most vitally important financial effort of this whole War!

If the 5th War Loan is to succeed, each one of us must do more than ever before—must buy double . . . yes, triple . . . the Bonds we bought last time.

Our men expect to hear that we are buying double—that we are matching their sacrifice as best we can—that the American nation, soldiers and civilians together, is making one gigantic effort to win this War!

That's the news our men expect to hear from us.

Will you personally see that they get it?

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years;
3. War Bonds help keep prices down;
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children; security for you; funds for retirement.

Two Men Fatally Burned Wichita Refinery Fire

WICHITA FALLS, June 15.—(AP)—Two men were dead and another was suffering from severe burns today as the result of a fire at the alkylation plant of the Continental Oil Company's refinery near here.

Dead were W. A. (Bill) Waggle, 1, and D. L. Ring, 23.

L. E. Broome was in a critical condition.

Less seriously burned were C. B. Nelson, K. Estinson, Everett B. Geyer and Henry C. Brandt.

The fire, which occurred yesterday, followed a series of explosions in the plant.

attack on Japan very much earlier than would be possible with aircraft hitherto known to combat."

Will Not Win War.

Arnold asserted:

"The super-fortress is not going to win teh war by itself, nor has anyone thought it will do so. It will, however, like its predecessors, the B-17 and B-24, strike at the sources of enemy strength, and prepare the way for ultimate decision by our well-established team of land, sea and air forces.

"In our new strategic thinking, the B-17 and the B-24 will now become medium instead of long range bombers, and our B-25 and B-26 aircraft will become short range bombers. These smaller planes will travel no less distances than they do now, but the B-29 will attack much greater distances and with more power.

"The employment of the B-29 is just beginning. It goes directly into battle from the production line, and we have a lot to learn before its full power may be developed. Consequently the frequency of its use will be carefully determined for some time. From this circumstance, let our enemies take what comfort they can while they can."

Gen. Hansell Chief.

Brig. Gen. Haywood Hansell, Jr., of Fort Monroe, Va., is chief of staff of the 20th Air Force. Brig. Gen. Kenneth D. Wolfe of Riverside, Calif., heads the 20th Bomber Command which struck Japan today.

In contrast to the 1942 Tokyo raid, first disclosed by the Tokyo radio, Japan's transmitters were silent today on the super-fortress bombing. Neither Federal Communications Commission nor Associated Press listening posts had heard a mention of the attack.

Nearly two hours after the war department announcement, however, the German DNB agency said in a dispatch designed for foreign publication:

"Japan has been bombed by American aircraft according to reports from Washington."

There was no indication that the German home radio had carried the news.

New Type Offensive.

General George C. Marshall, chief of staff, in a statement on the attack made public by the war department, said the Superfortress introduced a new type of offensive against the enemy and "also creates a new problem in the application of military force."

Because of the enormous range and heavy bomb load of this newest bombardment plane, said Marshall, they can strike "from many remote bases at a single objective."

Their power is so great, the chief of staff continued, that the (American) joint chiefs of staff decided it would be uneconomical to confine the Superfrotress organization to a single theater, and "these bombers therefore will remain under the centralized control of the joint chiefs of staff with a single commander, General Arnold, acting as their agent in directing their bombing operations throughout the world."

Major Task Forces.

"The planes will be treated as major task forces in the same manner as naval task forces are directed against specific objectives," Marshall said.

"This type of flexible centralized control recognizes that very long-range bombardment is not a weapon for the air forces alone. Unper the joint chiefs of staff, theater commanders will have a voice in its employment, ensuring that maximum effectiveness will be obtained through missions which will contribute directly to the overall strategy fos the defeat of the enemies."

It was the second American raid on the Japanese homeland. On April 18, 1942, when American military fortunes were at their lowest, the nation was electrified by word that Tokyo and other Japanese cities had been attacked from the air.

First Report From Japs.

The first announcement then came from the Japanese and it was not until weeks later that it was learned that a force of B-25 Mitchell bombers under James H. Doolittle, then only a lieutenant colonel but now a lieutenant general commanding the Eighth air force in Britain, had carried out that adventurous mission.

The Mitchells flew from the aircraft carrier Hornet and after crossing Japan flew on to the continent. One landed in Eastern Siberia, the others in China. Some of them came down in Japanese-held territory and a few of the fliers were taken captive. Months later the Japanese themselves made it known that some of these prioners had been executed.

Targets Secret

Although the targets of the B-29s remained a military secret—until such times as the Japanese radio might begin its account of the raid—sevreal centers of Japan's war effort were likely choices. Among them:

Tokyo, capital of the empire, a sprawling city of some 7,000,000, its suburbs crammed with factories, mostly new, brought into being by war production, its center containing the secluded Palace of Emperor Hirohito surrounded by modern buildings housing the Government and big business.

Nagoya, 250 miles West of Tokyo, center of the Empire's bombing aircraft industry and an important military port, with a war-swollen population of perhaps 2,000,000.

The Osaka-Kobe-Kyoto triangle, the industrial heart of the Empire, dingy with the smoke of thousands of factories working for the war, embracing three cities of more than 1,000,000 within a triangle only 30 miles to the side—Osaka, nearly 4,000,000; Kobe, the great port of Western Japan probably 1,200,000; Kyoto about 1,100,000.

The heavy industry districts fringing both sides of the Inland sea including the Western tip of the Main Island, Honshu, and the Northern third of Kyushu, with such cities as Yawata, Hakata, Fukuoka and the big port of Nagasaki.

Today's announcement followed a Japanese claim for foreign consumption on May 15 that Japanese air units had "completely frustrated" American plans to bomb Japan by carrying out "devastating attacks" on United States bases in China, OWI said.

Notwithstanding this boast the Tokyo radio had been issuing repeated warnings to the Japanese people to be prepared for inevitable air attacks on the Japanese mainland by bombers including the B-29 Super-Fortress.

Caught napping by the Doolittle raid in 1942, the government of Premier Hideki Tojo has been in the process of carrying out a number of air raid precaution measures, including a vast project for the partial evacuation of Tokyo and a number of other leading cities. As announced early this year by the Tokyo radio, the evacuation project called for the removal of important industrial units, government offices and schools to less-populated areas.

ing intensive preparatory bombardment of Saipan, Tinian, Pagan, Guam and Rota islands by carrier based aircraft and by a portion of the battleships, cruisers and destroyers of the Pacific fleet.

"Landings are being continued against strong opposition under cover of supporting bombardment by our air and surface forces. Initial reports indicate our casualties are moderate."

Close Naval Support.

In a report supplementing his communique, Admiral Nimitz said fleet warships provided "close naval fire support." Carrier planes were flying protective cover for the landing assault troops. Harassing fire was maintained throughout Wednesday night.

"Enemy shore batteries and interior gun emplacements were principal targets of the co-ordinated snelling and bombing," Nimitz reported. "Large fires and explosions were caused along the entire coast line of Saipan."

This mention of enemy shore batteries and interior gun emplacements indicated the assault troops were under artillery fire while striking for shore in their landing craft and fighting to secure the first beachhead.

Jap Convoy Attacked.

Nimitz also reported that carrier planes sighted and attacked a Jap cnovoy southwest of Gaum Monday in the third day of the preparatory air attack. This was the third ship convoy attacked prior to the Saipan landing.

A direct hit was scored on a large destroyer which was left on fire. Near misses left a medium cargo vessel burning and another destroyer was seen trailing oil. All ships in the convoy were heavily strafed.

Another carreir force, sighting a group of trawlers and others in the area the same day, sank one 60-foot trawler and damaged eight others.

added that he wouldn't seek delay of debate "if I had no hopes of a better solution than I can announce at the present time."

There are numerous angles involved, but the essence of them seems to be DeGaulle's demand that his Committee of National Liberation be recognized as the provisional government of France. This neither Washington nor London is willing to do, holding that liberated Frenchmen should pass on this great question first. Out of this have grown uncomfortable questions by the French Committee regarding the scope of General Eisenhower's authority in civilian matters, the extent of cooperation by the French people (including the underground forces) with the invading allies, and the validity of allied invasion currency used by Eisenhower's troops.

The American-British decision about recognition is self-explanatory—They want the French people as a whole to make the choice in peace time. Still, from long observation I suspect that if De Gaulle weren't such a dominating personality he might have a better chance of recognition. It's like this:

No one, so far as I know, questions that this tall, impressive appearing soldier has vast powers of leadership. He has outstanding capabilities and he has a personality which attracts followers. What's wrong then?

Well, he has the reputation of being a hard man—absolute granite—to deal with. He gives the impression that he believes himself to be a man of destiny. His way is the right way.

It seems obvious that the allies might create great difficulties for France by thrusting such a powerful and dominating personality on her before the people have had a chance to vote. Maybe if De Gaulle softened a bit it would help.

planes and tens of thousands of his slippery minions whence they came, never again to attack our flag nor the flags of our allies.

"You blasted the Japs in grim victory at Guadalcanal, you drove him back and hunted him out, you broke his offensive spirit in those smashing Bougainville-Rabaul blows at his ships and planes and troops in November, and you smeared him and rolled over him easily to occupy Emirau. Now carry on the smashing South Pacific traditions under your new commander, and may we join up again farther along the road to Tokyo."

Like Halsey, Vice Admiral Newton is stocky and square-jawed. He came to the South Pacific command early this year after serving as deputy commander in chief of Pacific areas under Admiral Chester Nimitz as Pearl Harbor.

Newton formerly was deputy chief of naval operations under Admiral Ernest King, commander in chief of the United States fleet, and figured prominently in planning and executing grand naval strategy in the Atlantic and Pacific, work for which he received the Legion of Merit.

"CAP" STUBBS AND TIFFIE — By Edwin

Dear Friends:

In asking you for your vote and influence in the forthcoming election on July 22, I do so on my own merits and qualifications. As you know, I have been totally blind now for the past 12 years. I have the same responsibility in paying living expenses as those who are blessed with their eyesight. I am physically and financially unable to call on you in person during the campaign, so I take this method of asking you to lend me a helping hand by leaving my name on the ticket. For this favor I assure you that I will do my best to merit the confidence you have placed in me.

Your friend,
JOE E. (Blind) DANIEL.

TEXAS GOVERNORSHIP NOMINATION RACE IS NOW ON IN EARNEST

WILL BE AN EIGHT MAN AND ONE WOMAN AFFAIR THIS YEAR

By WILLIAM E. KEYS

AUSTIN, June 15.—(AP)—Texas' biennial contest for Democratic nomination as governor, an eight-man and one-woman race this time, was under way today.

Few, if any of the cnadidates had managed to bid for public attention.

Eight, including Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham, tested public reaction yesterday in one way or another.

Some examples: Govenor Coke R. Stevenson, seeking re-nomination addressed a Flag Day meeting in Houston linking the flag with his favored theme of state's rights.

"The flag is a banner that stands for all the rights guaranteed in the constitution, particularly in the rights of state's," he said in Houston.

Mrs. Cunningham, Walker county farm woman, made her first formal campaign speech in an Austin hotel ballroom to an audience predominantly feminine.

Her "post-card" platform of full support of the war was adopted, she said, because Governor Stevenson has not taken the leadership necessary in time of war.

Attacks Stevenson

"By innenudo, implication and insinuation he has impeded the war effort," the former agricultural editor and former AAA women's division director asserted.

She was heard also at a forum here staged by the League of Women Voters. So was Gene Stratton Porter of Waco whose eight-point program has been explained by him at public meetings since February anad Dr. Herbert Mills of Dickinson who called himself a "mere dentist trying to be governor and give justice to the common people."

Some candidates who could not appear on the forum sent written statements.

W. J. Minton, Sherman editor, advocated $60 a month for every one rich or poor who reaches 65, present and future generations.

Edward Carey, Houston real estate man, wrote: "Greetings with regrets. I abhor the name of juneville x x x deplore mushheaded lawmakers x x x and I am not afraid fo Coke. He wears boots."

Brother of Jim

A. M. Ferguson of Howe, brother of former Governor James E. Ferguson, explaining he wanted to "lessen the power of stooge government derived from secret campaign donations by foreign corporations."

Martin Jones of Nacogdoches favored a bonus and free college tuition for returning veterans, women's jury service, pensions and a "sealed package law."

From Houston where he was occupied with the Flag Day address Governor Stevenson wrote: "I have no platform other than my record as governor."

Mrs. Cunningham in her formal campaign speech asserted the governor's record proves that he places his own political plans and ambitions above winning the war.

"He has impeded the war effort and undermined morale," she added.

Bill of Particulars

Mrs. Cunningham said it would be unfair to make these assertions unless she could present a "bill of particulars" in their support.

The bill, she said, should include these statements:

He opposed gasoline rationing as unnecessary despite its importance to the safety and success of fighting forces.

He attempted to stir up a bogus feed shortage.

He was insincere regarding the soldier vote.

His only public declaration regarding plans for returning veterns was that there is some money in the highway fund.

He attacked the war leadership of the nation.

He wants to injure the present administration more than he wants to win the war.

He thinks more of victory for business, sulphur and oil, and other interests x x x than he does of any American victory over the Axis.

Promoted Inflation

Whenever a difficulty developed in prosecuting the war he or his officially appointed representative attempted aggravate the difficulty.

He promoted inflation.

With his consent old age assistance payments were cut $3.

He attempted to obtain Mexican cotton pickers for Texas without regard to a treaty on the subject between the government of the United States and Mexico.

He failed to attend a naval review of Corpus Christi when the presidents of the United States and Mexico were present but found time to visit in Dallas with Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, Republican aspirant for president.

He has entered into a conspiracy to destroy the American party system of government.

"Texans are in the war completely and they have the right to demand leaders who will direct them with loyalty and faith," she said.

Omaha Photographer Wins Another First

MILWAUKEE, June 15.—(AP)—Earle L. "Buddy" Bunker, Omaha World-Herald staff photographer whose graphic picture "Homecoming" was awarded a Pulitzer prize last month, today won first place with the same picture in the annual national newsphoto contest conducted by the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, W. R. Arnold, vice chairman, announced.

Bunker's picture, which showed the heart-touching welcome of a Villisca, Iowa, soldier by his family, won first prize over more than 40 entries from 17 states.

Bunker will be given $100 in cash prize money and a photograph of a silver and oak plaque, with his name inscribed, symbolizing the AP award for outstanding photography. The plaque itself is kept on exhibit in AP general headquarters in New York.

TOKYO BROADCASTS DECLARE LANDINGS ON SAIPAN SOUGHT

NO CONFIRMATION FROM ALLIED SOURCES OF MARIANAS ATTEMPT

LONDON June 15—(AP)—A powerful American task force, which has been harassing Japanese strongholds in the Marianas islands since last Saturday, is now attempting to land troops on Saipan island, the Tokyo radio declared today—a daring operation which, if successful, would give the United States an ocean base within 1,500 miles of Tokyo.

(The OWI said a Japanese Imperial headquarters communique announced that landing attempt also was being made at Tinian island in the Marianas and that "heavy fighting is in progress between Japanese units and enemy forces.")

While there was no immediate confirmation of the reported landing operation, Admiral Chester W. Nimitz disclosed yesterday in his latest communique that the American task force was still operating off the Marianas Tuesday.

It was conceivable that the force —already credited with inflicting grievous losses on Japanese shipping and air power—might still be operating in that area.

First reports of American offensives operations in the past have come from the Japanese on more than one occasion.

An atempt to land in he Marianas would be the most ambitious venture yet undertaken by American forces in their leap-frogging progress in the Pacific, during which they have moved steadily closer to the Japanese home islands in recent months with the capture of basis in the Gilberts and Marshalls.

The Japanese, as usual, maintained they had beaten off the first landing atempts at Saipan, but said that "heavy fighting" still was going on.

Tokyo acknowledged only yesterday that the Marianas were under attack by a naval task force, and made extravagant claims concerning the damage the Japanese had inflicted on the attacking naval units and aircraft. The task force operations were first announced by Nimitz 24 hours earlier.

Bechtel, Tech Grid Star, Goes To Texas

LUBBOCK, June 15.—(AP)—Texas Tech's star football end of last season, Hubert Bechtel, has transferred to the Univrsity of Texas.

Bethtel, who has been ordered to report to the Naval V-5 unit, will train with the Longhorn grid squad. He received honorable mention on the Associated Press All-America team last season.

J. R. Calahan, former Texas Tech star fullback, played at the Univerity of Texas last fall as a member of the Naval V-5 unit. He was All-Southwest conference. Calahan is not now at Texas.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY COMMITTEE GATHERS IN CHICAGO TODAY

ROBERT HANNEGAN, CHAIRMAN, FRESH FROM ROOSEVELT CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press

Democratic chairman Robert E. Hannegan, fresh from a talk with President Roosevelt, assembled a party committee in Chicago today to arrange for the July 19 Chicago convention at which the President can have another nomination for the taking.

Whether Hannegan brought word as to how Mr. Roosevelt feels about it was not disclosed.

He left the White House yesterday with a "no comment" rejoinder to a reporter who inquired whether he still sticks by his recent New York speech in which he predicted, as a matter of personal opinion, that the President will accept a fourth term nomination.

Hannegan and the arrangements committeemen busied themselves with selection of a keynote speaker and recommendation of a convention chairman.

Governor Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, a fourth-term advocate, was the apparent pre-meeting favorite for keynoter, while Hannegan and others were talked of for the chairmanship

Other political developments:

Governor Jonn W. Bricker of Ohio dined in Washington at a private dinner with Republican first termers in the House. Those attending said Bricker, aspirant for the Republican Presidential nomination, told them that the United States must play a strong role internationally but first "we must be strong at home."

Close Idaho Race

A politician's nightmare continued in the counting of returns in Idaho's close race for the Democratic nomination for the Senate with a 14-vote margin separating the leaders.

When 713 of the state's 845 precincts had reported, an unofficial count showed: Senator D. Worth Clark 10,004 and Glen Taylor, singing cowboy from Pocatello, 10,018. James H. Hawley, Boise attorney, was trailing.

Later returns put Clark back in the lead by 10 votes with 715 precincts tabulated. The see-sawing race indicated that the official canvass June 24 will be necessary to determine the winner.

Gov. C. A. Bolloifsen easily won the Republican nomination for the Senate post.

The Texas Supreme Court granted pro-Roosevelt Democrats permission to file a suit intended to require the printing of the names of their Presidential electors on the July 22 primary ballot. Their quarrel is with the regular state convention which named a different set of electors who were left free to vote for any Demoorat unless the National convention meets certain demands.

DRS. PAUL MARTIN AND W. ANGIE SMITH, TEXANS, NEW BISHOPS

TULSA, Okla., June 14.—(AP)—Dr. Paul Martin of Wichita Falls, a native Texan who sold home-made cookies and milk to finance his education for the ministry, was elevated today to a bishop's rank in the Methodist church.

After finishing in seventh place in the first ballot at the South Central Jurisdictional Conference, Dr. Martin's support grew rapidly and on the eleventh ballot he won the necessary three-fifths majority.

The early leaders—Dr. Paul Quillian of Houston, Texas, and Dr. Charles E. Schofield, president of Southwestern College of Winfield, Kas.—were far behind Dr. Martin in the final vote.

Dr. Martin worked his way through Southwestern University of Georgetown, Texas, by peddling cookies and milk to his fellow students, then took a pastorate at Kavanaugh, Texas. Later, he attended Southern Methodist University.

He has been pastor of the First Methodist church at Wichita Falls, Texas, for eight years and previously was superintendent of the Wichita Falls district.

Two North Texas Bishops.

Dr. William Angie Smith, pastor of the First Methodist church of Dallas, was elected Bishop on the second ballot of the conference last night, receiving 200 votes to 81 for Dr. Quillian and 75 for Dr. Schofield.

On the third ballot, Dr. Quillian received 95 votes and Dr. Schofield, 79, with the balance divided among a dozen other candidates. Balloting will continue until a second Bishop is elected.

The Bishops are being chosen to fill vacancies caused by the death of Bishop Charles L. Mead of the Kansas City area and the approach-retirement of Bishop John Calvin Broomfield of the St. Louis area.

Dr. Smith was the first Bishop to be elected in a jurisdictional conference. He is a brother of Dr. Angie Smith, Bishop of the Houston area. This makes the second time in Methodist history that brothers have been elected Bishops.

There was speculation that Dr. Smith might be assigned to the Oklahoma City residence now occupied by Bishop Charles C. Selecman, in the event the conference holds to a traditional policy of moving Bishops at the end of each quadrennium.

Assignment of Bishops throughout the eight-state jurisdiction is scheduled this afternoon.

Dr. Smith is a graduate of Georgetown and Columbia Universities and also holds honorary degrees from Centenary and McMurray colleges, Southern Methodist University, Union Theological Seminary and the Vanderbilt University School of Religion.

Before going to Dallas, he held pastorates in Louisiana, Alabama, and the District of Columbia.

CIRCLED GLOBE—S-IC Calvin Warnell (Buddy) Osborne, 19, has gone to San Francisco for re-assignment in the U. S. Navy following a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Osborne, 2706 West Ninth avenue. The seaman sailed from the Pacific Coast and returned to the U. S. at Baltimore, completing a round-the-world cruise that sent him across the Equator six times and visited many of the places now in the war news, including Gibraltar, Mediterranean sea area, Australia, Marshalls, Gilbert Island, Guadalcanal India and many Pacific islands. He has 106 coins of foreign countries touched by his merchant ships on which he was a gunner, has trophies from India and Australia and shells from many island beaches and shores. One trophy is a portion of a Jap plane. Osborne entered the Navy, June 3, 1943. He attended Corsicana High School.

Assist Veterans In Securing Jobs

A little known governmental agency to aid and assist returning service men is available, manned by local business and civic leaders.

The re-employment committeemen of Navarro county, working with Navarro County Draft Boards 1 and 2, and returning servicemen when requested is composed of W. P. Brown, chairman; Festus A. Pierce, W. P. McCammon and Mayor John C. Calhoun.

When a person is discharged from the armed forces, a notification is forwarded to the re-employment committee, who in turn writes the ex-service man, offering its services toward securing the old job if desired

W. P. Brown, the chairman, said few returning servicemen able to hold jobs, want their old jobs back, preferring in many instances to secure the high-paying defense jobs. The veteran is required to apply for the old job within 40 days after discharge.

Chairman Brown expects the services of the committee to be more in demand later when the was is over and the veterans return home by the millions

Many of those now being discharged are not physically able to resume their pre-induction employment.

Major Woodbury Opens Recruiting Station For WAC

Major John C. C. Woodbury, Army veteran, of 30 years service, arrived in Corsicana Tuesday and has estabilished a WAC recruiting office in room No. 6, Corsicana postoffice. He was accompanied by Lieut. M. Weiss.

"Sgt. Bonner and Pfc. McFadden of a WACs will be in charge of the offense for the present and Lieut. Mary Chave will arrive here June 20 to conduct the recruiting activities," the major stated.

Major Woodbury is director of the Camp Fannin recruiting district covering 25 Texas counties including Navarro. Camp Fannin is the district headquarters. The officer is now making a tour of each county in order to familiarize women between the ages of 20 and 49 with the Woman's Army Corps and the splendid job it is doing for the army.

"For those who would like to be stationed near home, a special effort will be made to recruit women for Camp Fannin," the officer stated. "Women may also enlist for general service and ask for overseas duty and they may ask for assignment with the Army Air Corps. The WAC company at Camp Fannin is now being formed, and there are many excellent positions open," Major Woodbury pointed out.

Marine Veteran Pacific Fighting Returns To Duty

Pfc. J. C. Puckett, 21, U. S. Marine Corps, left Tuesday for Camp LeJeune, N. C., for reassignment following 30 day furlough spent with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Puckett, 621 South Fourteenth street.

A veteran of the Pacific theater of operations Pvt. Puckett has seen action in the Marshalls and Midway He entered the service in January 1942 and has been overseas since April 1943.

A member of a Marine detail attached to a heavy cruiser Pvt. Puckett was one of a crew manning a big naval gun shelling the beaches to pave the way for the landings on the Marshalls and also participated in the sinking of a Japanese submarine off Midway. He also served in Hawaii.

Demonstrations Of Bread Making Given For Pickett Club

Demonstrations of yeast bread making and brining vegetables were given by Miss Vera Sneed, home demonstration agent, at the Pickett home demonstration club meeting in the home of Mrs. Ethel Ingham, Monday, June 12.

Miss Sneed explained the action of yeast plants on other bread ingredients, correct temperatures and handling. The dough was shaped into four different shaped rolls which were baked and served with a salad plate and tea.

Carrots, beans and cauliflower were placed in a brine of vinegar, salt and water to cure. Miss Sneed stated that almost any vegetable could be brined or pickled, however, brine destroys vitamins thus this method of preservation is not recommended except for pickles and relishes from which no food value is expected.

Mrs. C. C Christie will be hostess to the June 26 meeting.
